so when it's daybreak and fajr layers through the cracks in the windows and multiple gin and tonics you say there is no one else but him through benders and all your being what kind of kafir are you sahadah when it's early morning convulsing into bedsheets and drive me home because i am in no state but stately enough for your word and you but no one else and he
and no one else
and no one else
no one else
